Note: JLE 1:1 carried a cover date of March 1991. With JLE 4:1 the cover dates switched to season plus year and carried the cover date Spring 1994. By 1995 the cover dates started to have less and less accuracy relative to the document's actual publication date. JLE 13:1 was published in February 2005 and carried the cover date of Spring/Summer 2003. Starting with JLE 13:2 in April 2006 the JLE switched to using the publication date as the cover date. There was no change in the volume and issue numbering. Regardless of which cover dating method was used (i.e., month plus year or season plus year) the cover dates have been sequential.
