KOCH INTERNSHIP PROGRAM CHARLES G. KOCH CHARITABLE FOUNDATION

The Koch Internship Program is a paid opportunity for young professionals with an interest in free-market ideas to gain the tools to be more effective advocates for liberty. The program seeks to engage interns through substantive roles within think tanks, policy institutes, and grassroots organizations. In addition to the professional experience, interns also are challenged through weekly seminar-style management training.

INTERNS WHO PARTICIPATE IN KIP SHOULD EXPECT TO:

- » deepen their understanding of free-market ideas;
- » develop professional skills;
- » explore opportunities to advance liberty throughout their careers;
- » build a network of like-minded colleagues, through interactions with speakers, staff, and other interns;
- » be challenged throughout the semester!

KIP offers internships in various roles within an organization, including:

- » Policy research and analysis
- » Marketing & communications
- » Grassroots education
- » Donor relations
